

INDIANA IS READY FOR THE CONTEST

POLITICIANS LINING UP FOR THE STRUGGLE.

The Free Silver Men Control the State Convention—Montana Democrats Declare Their Financial Convictions General Political News Gathered in Several States.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 22.—The free-silver democrats of Indiana propose to show their strength this week. Emissaries of the white-metal movement have been traveling up and down the state for three weeks urging every representative of the party who believes in "restoring silver to the place it occupied prior to 1873" to attend the state convention and assist in converting or overpowering the members of the party who believe in the single gold standard.

The harvesting of the wheat crop is the only thing that will keep the advocates of the movement away from the convention. The advance guard is already here, and the free-silver people are largely in the majority. It looks as if the regularly constituted state committee, which stands for the present gold standard, will have to take a back seat.

Allen W. Clark of Greensburg, the chairman of the state committee formed by the free-silver democrats three weeks ago, is here. He is disposed to take charge of the convention arrangements and push through the plans of the free-silver people without any consultation with the administration.

Clark and his committee have already agreed upon a platform, and most of the men who are to go on the state ticket have been selected. There may be a revolt against this free-silver cabal, but it seems probable that its plans will be adopted by the delegates, most of whom, according to all reports, are radical on the question of free coinage.

Chairman Holt of the regularly appointed state committee said that his committee had not found it necessary to do much toward the preliminary work of the convention. "The other fellows have taken it in hand," said he, "and it looks as if they would run things. They have already agreed upon a platform, I understand."

Heretofore it has been the duty of the state committee to prepare a platform for presentation to the committee on resolutions. The latest figures, those made since the election of a few delegates to the convention Saturday, indicate that the administration wing of the party will be represented in the convention by 312 of the 1,747 delegates. There is no question that the convention will declare for the coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

The administration representatives of the party have not yet decided whether they shall bolt the convention. The sentiment seems to be in favor of allowing each individual to follow his conscience. It is a foregone conclusion that the delegates elected will vote in the national convention in favor of a free-coinage plank. At the request of Gov. Matthews, two or three men who are not for free silver may be put on the delegation, but they will go on with the understanding that they shall lay aside their personal opinions and support the sort of a platform the majority of the democrats in the state demand.

FREE SILVER IN MONTANA.

State Democratic Convention Adopts a Decided Financial Plank.

Butte, Mont., June 22.—The democratic state convention met here Saturday and decided for free silver. Temporary Chairman M. P. Parker of Jefferson county, in his speech, heartily indorsed the course pursued by Senator Teller and his companions in their bolt at St. Louis. The financial plank is as follows:

"As to the question overshadowing all others which today engages the thoughts and affects the welfare of the people of the United States we are in favor of the restoration of silver as money as it existed prior to its covert demonetization in 1873. For this purpose we demand that the mints of the United States be opened to the free coinage of silver as well as gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting the action of other nations. We declare it our belief that the demonetization of silver is the prime cause of its depreciation, and also of the general stagnation that exists in all branches of industry and trade throughout the United States, and that permanent prosperity can be restored only by restoration of silver to its former place of money equality with gold."

The platform also declares for a tariff for revenue and against the issuance of bonds in time of peace.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS.

State Convention Meets at Peoria Tomorrow.

Peoria, Ill., June 22.—That Gov. Altgeld will have something to say about the Chicago platform is most likely, because it is almost certain that he will be a delegate-at-large to that convention; will be chairman of the Illinois delegation, and will be the Illinois representative on the committee on resolutions.

Regarding the alleged plan to have the Chicago convention indorse Teller of Colorado, who has been nominated by the bolting republicans, the governor was inclined to be dubious. "I do not think any one has seriously considered such a proposition as yet," said he. "You will notice that Senator Teller is not talking about it."

Gov. Altgeld will not express an opinion as to his choice for the nominee of the Chicago convention, but as all his lieutenants are loud in their praises of Boies, it might be inferred that they reflect the governor's views. It is probable that with the exception of the 16-to-1 ratio, which will be made part of the platform, the utterance of this convention will follow closely the resolutions adopted by the Cook county democratic convention.

OHIO DEMOCRATS THIS WEEK.

State Convention Will Doubtless Be Controlled by Silver Men.

Columbus, Ohio, June 22.—Evidences that the Ohio democrats are going to hold a convention this week are beginning to accumulate. Though Mr. Brice early engaged quarters at a leading hotel he will not be here. He thinks the party has no use for his services, and as he took a "sound money" stand last year he announces that he cannot recede from that position, even though his party reverse the policy adopted in 1895. An attempt was made to drag Mr. Brice out of his retirement by making him temporary chairman, but this seems to have fallen through, and that selection up to the present time is a matter of guesswork.

The name of Allen G. Thurman is also discussed as the most suitable man for the place. The committee will meet tomorrow and settle the matter.

Every delegate to the national convention will be an out-and-out free-silver man. Two-thirds and more of the district delegates will also be for silver. Only three counties of importance have declared for the single standard, and these are Cuyahoga (Cleveland), Lucas (Toledo) and Montgomery (Dayton).

MRS. CRAVEN'S FORTUNE.

Deed Filed Giving Her $1,000,000 of the Senator Fair Estate.

San Francisco, June 22.—A sensation was caused today when a friend of Mrs. Nettie Craven filed for record a deed from the late Senator Fair conveying to her two very valuable pieces of San Francisco property. The deed is dated Sept. 8, 1894, and was acknowledged before Notary Public Cooney on Sept. 2 of that year.

The entire document, which purports to be in the handwriting of Senator Fair, is in lead pencil, and the acknowledgment is in ink. For "love and affection" the senator deeded a large lot at Pine and Sansome streets and half a block of land in Mission street to Mrs. Craven. The property is worth $1,000,000.

Some time ago it was rumored that Mrs. Craven had in her possession a document showing that she had been married to Mr. Fair, and a deed to valuable property. The filing of the deed is the first confirmation of the rumors.

CUT RATES TO ALASKA POINTS.

Rival Steamship Lines Engage in a War for Business.

Tacoma, Wash., June 22.—A rate war is on between the Pacific Coast Steamship company and the Northern Pacific Railroad company's Alaska steamship service.

The Coast Steamship company's cut rates are announced to take effect on the sailing of the Alki next Monday. On the other hand, the rates to the same Alaskan ports, Wrangel, Juneau and Sitka, are advanced on the City of Topeka, sailing July 1.

The Alki rates will be $10 and $5, cabin and steerage respectively, to Juneau, and $7 and $3.50 to Wrangel, while the City of Topeka fares will be $15 and $7.50 to Juneau, $12 and $6 to Wrangel, and $20 and $10 to Sitka.

KANSAS GIRL A VICTIM.

Miss Belle Bennett Lost with the Drummond Castle.

Topeka, Kan., June 22.—There is no longer any doubt that Miss Belle Bennett of Topeka went down with the Drummond Castle that was lost off the coast of France June 16. Charles Bennett, a brother of Miss Bennett, cabled the London offices of the steamship company to learn if his sister had sailed on the Drummond Castle. He received a reply that her name was on the passenger list and that she was not one of the survivors of the wreck. Miss Bennett left this city two years ago for South Africa to teach in Worcester Seminary, 100 miles from Cape Town.

Popular Ovation for Teller July 4.

Denver, Col., June 22.—The great popular ovation by the citizens of Colorado to Senator H. M. Teller will take place July 4. The committee on arrangements had hoped that Senator Teller would be able to come to Colorado some time next week, but as he telegraphed that he needed rest and would remain with his mother until about July 1 it was decided to have the reception on the national holiday. There will be a monster parade, followed by speeches, and in the evening fireworks and a brilliant illumination. A special feature of the reception will be the presence of senators and delegates from other states who walked out of the St. Louis convention with Senator Teller. They will be invited to participate in the honor which will be shown the Colorado senator.

SPANISH GET READY TO CARRY ON WAR

THE GOVERNMENT IS NOW SEEKING TROUBLE.

Madrid Newspaper Predicts that International Difficulties Are at Hand—Condition of Foreign Trade—Russian Workmen Strike—The Chinese Emperor's Mother Is Dead.

Madrid, June 22.—The liberals have introduced into the senate a motion censuring the United States for its attitude toward Cuba.

London, June 22.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Madrid says: "The platform adopted in St. Louis causes great uneasiness in Spain, and it is feared that a conflict with the United States has now almost a fixed date. The government has hastened to buy two 14,000-ton ironclads at Genoa, whose price a few days ago was thought to be excessive. A great part of the loan of $100,000,000 pesetas made by Rothschild on the Almaden quicksilver mines will probably be immediately applied to such warships as are now for sale. The government, responding to the undoubted national sentiment and trusting probably to the help of other powers, seems resolved to resist American impositions."

CONDITION OF FOREIGN TRADE.

Various Events Have Transpired to Render the Stock Market Irregular.

London, June 22.—The plethora in the money market has weakened discount rates, and the outlook gives little promise of hardening, as the hot week reduced the attendance on the stock exchange and dealings were much reduced. Prices were irregular. High-class stocks, consols and railways, are so high that there is little inducement to invest. Foreign securities are likewise inactive and changes were small. There has been a big increase in dealings in American railroads, and a decided all-round improvement in prices, ranging from 1/2 to 2 1/2. The mining market was dull. President Krueger's request to the high commissioner of Cape Colony to prosecute Cecil Rhodes depressed the market, while the Mashona outbreak caused a fall in Chartered South African securities. There has been a further advance in copper shares owing to the expected shortage in the supply of the metal.

Many Strike in Russia.

St. Petersburg, June 22.—There are 4,000 factory hands now on strike. They are quiet and peaceable, but apparently determined to obtain their demands. It is stated that 10,000 workmen in the province of Tver have resolved to go to the railway when the czar returns to St. Petersburg and stop the train and throw themselves on their knees to induce the emperor to receive a memorial of their grievances.

Chinese Emperor's Mother Is Dead.

Peking, June 22.—The mother of the emperor died on Friday.

WHITNEY NOT A CANDIDATE.

Would Not Accept the Presidential Nomination Under Any Terms.

New York, June 22.—William C. Whitney has made a public statement in which he defines the political situation, makes his position clear as regards his decision to remain in this country instead of going to Europe, and concludes by saying that he is not a presidential possibility; that he "would not run if nominated and would not serve if elected." On the financial question he says:

"Is is a question not what we wish, but what we are able to do. A strong man may undertake a task too great for his strength and break down. It cannot be denied that the feeling among our people is that this free coinage by the United States alone will not give us the gold and silver money at a parity with each other (which is the assumption upon which it is taken), but will bring us to silver monometallism and a change in our standard of value, and that change, it is believed, means immediate ruin to our industries and no permanent good to anyone. This feeling is general and intense."

"Personally, it is my opinion, if the democratic party goes on that platform at this time, it will meet the most disastrous defeat that any party has ever had in this country. I understand it is honestly believed in and people think it will bring relief from their present troubles, but between now and election day it will be pretty thoroughly sifted and the people of this country will not face the disturbances of values, the loss of confidence, the general distress and ruin which would come to their business interests in such a change in their standard of value as would arise from such action. And it will, in my opinion, overwhelm the persons who undertake it."

Shot His Son and Killed Himself.

St. Paul, Minn., June 20.—William Schoffner, aged 44, of West St. Paul, after a all-night quarrel, as the culmination of long-continued family troubles, shot his wife and a bullet through his son, who had tried to save his mother's life, so that the son, Paul Schoffner, aged 22, is not expected to recover. The father then locked himself in his room and fired a ball through his temple, death resulting instantly.

PASSENGERS HURT IN AN ODD MANNER

BRUSHED FROM MOVING TROLLEY CARS.

Nine Persons Receive Internal Injuries in a Peculiar Accident at Frankford, Pa.—Three Men Killed at a Grade Crossing in New Jersey By a Whizzing Train.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 22.—More than twenty passengers on two open trolley cars were injured Sunday night in a peculiar accident at Frankford, a suburb of this city. One of the cars was returning from and the other going to a pleasure park. They ran on parallel tracks. Both were so crowded that many of the passengers stood on the footboards and when the cars attempted to pass each other at a rapid rate a jam resulted. Nine of the passengers were internally injured and were taken to hospitals, but it is not thought any fatalities will follow.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Accident at a Grade Crossing at Absecon, New Jersey.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 22.—Three men were instantly killed and a fourth probably fatally injured in a grade crossing accident at Absecon Sunday. The dead are:

GEORGE HUBER, aged 60 years.

FRED HUBER, his son, aged 32 years, of Germania.

HARRY HENTZLER of Philadelphia.

The injured is Joseph Sand of Gallo-way, a member of the board of freeholders. The men left Germania about 7 o'clock in the morning for a day's pleasure in a top-covered wagon drawn by a pair of spirited horses. Upon reaching Absecon the animal either became unmanageable or the driver, young Huber, attempted to beat the Camden & Atlantic express train across the tracks. The train was running at the rate of sixty miles an hour. The wagon was partly over the tracks when the train struck it full and scattered the men in all directions.

BASEBALL REPORT.

Standing of the Clubs Composing the Three Principal Leagues.

Chicago rested again at the half-way house after yesterday's game, while the Reds entered the elevator and climbed up another story. The tail-enders pounded each other, and those who escaped the cyclone won from the men from the falls. The season is out of its swaddling clothes, and yet all but three teams are liable to get into the running with a vengeance. The bunch gets tighter together instead of loosening up, and every club is straining for the pennant. It is a good prediction that one of the western clubs will go down toward the sea in August in the one hole. After that anything might happen. Standing of the clubs:

Flambeau a Paradoxical Chicago.

Topeka, Kan., June 22.—The Topeka Democratic Flambeau club, 100 strong, will attend the national convention at Chicago, accompanied by a band. The club has accepted invitations to join the clubs of Springfield and Kansas City, Mo., Denver, Helena, and Ottumwa in a grand parade in Chicago on the night of July 7.

POPULISTS INDORSE TELLER.

Issue an Address Calling on All Silver Men to Support Him.

St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—As the result of a series of conferences between the committees appointed by the seceding silver men of the recent republican national convention and a committee composed of prominent populists, an address was issued Saturday night from the headquarters of the people's party national committee in this city advising populists throughout the country to name Henry M. Teller of Colorado their national standard-bearer. Immediately after the silver men walked out of the convention they appointed a committee, of which Charles S. Hartman of Montana, Senator R. F. Pettigrew of South Dakota, C. F. Cannon of Utah, and Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho were members, to confer with a similar committee of populists. That evening at the Planters' hotel they met H. E. Taubeneck of Illinois, chairman, Dr. Howard S. Taylor of Chicago and Thomas M. Patterson of Denver, of the national populist committee, and as a result of that and subsequent conferences the address was issued. It says in part:

"One man, the perfection of his type, representing the millionaires, the banks, the corporations, the trusts and every other remorseless and plutocratic element in our country's life, has through the power of money dictated the nomination of McKinley and shaped the platform of his party. The issue is formulated in the demands that 'the existing gold standard must be preserved,' and for the enactment of 'all measures designed to maintain inviolably the obligations of the United States and all our money—either coin or paper—at the present standard.'"

"This means that silver shall be permanently degraded into mere money of change, and that it be deprived of its legal-tender quality except for some paltry sum. That the greenback and all other forms of government paper money shall be redeemed and destroyed. That the national banks shall be swollen into a power of triple their present ability to contract the volume of money, to absorb the earnings of industry and to grip the throat of all industrial and commercial life, while from time to time it terrorizes the voters into choice of its tools for all legislative, judicial and administrative positions."

"We see in the private and official life of Henry M. Teller, a beacon, burning brightly, warning the people off the threatening shores of dissension. He has but now publicly abandoned the republican party, with which he has been associated since its first organization. We feel that we are but performing a duty to our beloved country in thus calling attention to Mr. Teller's merits and availability as a candidate for president; as one upon whom all populists may consistently unite, while they strenuously preserve and strengthen their organization."

Chairman Taubeneck in an interview said: "The seceding silver men of the republican party and the populists have, as the result of our conferences, come to a perfect agreement as to the future, and henceforth we will work along the same lines." He predicted victory for a ticket with Teller as its leader.

EXPRESS RUNS INTO A WRECK.

Garret A. Hobart at First Reported to Be on the Train.

Pittsburg, June 20.—The first section of the east-bound Atlantic express on the Pennsylvania Railway ran into a freight wreck, near Walls station, sixteen miles east of here, derailling the two engines, two express cars, a combination car and one sleeper. None of the passengers was injured. The express was delayed some time by the wreck, but later left for the east. It was reported that Garrett A. Hobart, the republican nominee for Vice-President, and the New Jersey delegation were on board. This is denied, however, by Superintendent Robert Pitcairn of the Pennsylvania Railway, who says the New Jersey delegation is on the fourth section. The section that was wrecked was not damaged, and the passengers were not even badly shaken up.

SERGT. HOGAN IN GOOD LUCK.

Army Officer Falls Heir to a Fortune of $200,000.

New York, June 22.—After 14 years of faithful work as an enlisted man in the United States army, Sergt. John E. Hogan of Battery C, First artillery, has come into a fortune of $200,000, and now thinks of leaving the service. Sergt. Hogan is stationed at Fort Wadsworth. He has just learned that land in Texas to the value of about $400,000 is waiting to be divided between him and a sister.

Years ago his father had some land near Dallas which had been squatted upon, and the title to which was in litigation. His father died, and Sergt. Hogan had not heard from his family in years. It seems that the title to the land, after suits leading up to the supreme court, had been decided in favor of the Hogans.

Severe Storm at Toledo, Ohio.

Toledo, Ohio, June 22.—A terrific rain, wind and thunderstorm visited this city at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Victor Monimee, a well-known farmer, was instantly killed by lightning. Grove Collins and family sought refuge in a shed, and were knocked unconscious by a bolt striking the building. A great deal of damage to buildings, orchards, fruit trees, etc., is reported from all sections of the county.

THE GOLD MEN WIN AT MILWAUKEE

SILVER DEMOCRATS LOSE AT THE PRIMARIES.

Cause of White Metal in the State, Is Slightly Advanced by the Holding of Recent Conventions—Muskoda School House Struck by Lightning and Children Shocked.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 22.—The democratic primaries Saturday night to elect delegates to the state convention were well attended in most of the wards and towns. The gold men succeeded in carrying the county, although the silverites elected about one-fourth of the forty-nine delegates chosen. The silverites were more successful than had been anticipated. Many of the delegates reported to be in favor of gold, however, are not strong advocates of the single standard, and it is probable that some of them will vote for silver men as delegates. Reports received from various parts of the state indicate that the silver sentiment has been gaining ground. Twenty-three counties outside of Milwaukee have elected forty-seven delegates for silver, thirty-seven for gold and forty-two were committed.

School House Struck by Lightning.

Muskoda, Wis., June 22.—This place was visited by a severe electric storm Saturday afternoon. The Catholic schoolhouse at this place was struck by lightning and fire afterward broke out. The fire department soon extinguished the flames. The sisters in charge and some of the children were badly shocked. The building was badly damaged.

GRAVES' CASE THROWN OUT.

Charges Against Secretary Carlisle Are Not Sustained.

New York, June 20.—The senate committee appointed to investigate the government bond transactions of the last two and a half years has just closed its labors in this city. James Kitchen and Ernst Thalmann, who had been subpoenaed as witnesses to substantiate the allegations of William Graves in relation to the refusal of Secretary Carlisle to deliver to him (Graves) $4,700,000 of the last bond issue, did not appear. Graves asked the committee for permission to file a brief, but Senator Harris, for the committee, denied the request, saying the committee had not been created for the purpose of trying private grievances and that Graves' complaint would not have been entertained at all had it not concerned a high government official. None of Graves' allegations, the senator continued, had been sustained. Subsequently Senator Harris told Graves that he would consider any written statement that Graves might transmit to Washington. The committee will not reconvene until after the meeting of the next congress.

ADVANCE IN THE PRICE OF COAL.

Increase of 25 Cents a Ton to Take Effect July 1.

New York June 22.—The anthracite carrying and producing railroads are quietly preparing to make an advance of 25 cents a ton in coal prices July 1. It was expected to take place June 1, but there seems to have been fear of legislation and undue attention was given to the matter.

The advance will make the highest circular price since 1894, and the highest actual price since 1893, because the figures named by the sales agents in 1894 were really higher than the actual selling price.

Clinton County, Ill., for Silver.

Carlyle, Ill., June 22.—The democrats of Clinton county met in convention in this city Saturday to select delegates to the state, congressional, judicial and senatorial conventions. A resolution was adopted advocating the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. The administration of John P. Altgeld was indorsed, and the delegates to the state convention at Peoria were instructed to use their united efforts in all honorable ways to induce him to accept a renomination for that office.

Silver Men at Springfield, Ill.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—Senator Fred Dubois of Idaho, and his private secretary, A. T. Ryan, and Senator Mantle of Montana arrived here Sunday from St. Louis. Senator Dubois will visit his brother for a week or two, and it is understood they will confer with the free-silver democrats here with a view to uniting them with the free-silver republicans on Teller as a candidate for president.

Arrest of the Laurada's Captain.

Philadelphia, June 22.—Captain Charles D. Dickman of the steamship Laurada, was arrested by a deputy United States marshal, charged with being implicated in the alleged filibustering expedition which sailed from New York

SLAIN BY THE BOLT SENT FROM THE SKY

CHARLES WALDO INSTANTLY KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Henry Kruse, His Hired Man, Felled By the Bolt, But Will Recover—Gale of Wind and Torrents of Rain At Emerald Grove—Other County News.

Edgerton, June 22.—There was death in the rain storm and gale that swept Rock county Saturday afternoon.

The dead:
WALDO, CHARLES, farmer, aged 43, instantly killed by a bolt of lightning on the Caldwell farm.

The injured:
KRUSE, HENRY, farm hand employed by Waldo. Burned and partially paralyzed. Will recover.

The two men were nailing a board to the water spout in the barn when bolt struck them. Waldo was holding the hammer, and Kruse was holding the board. When the flash, with the deafening accompaniment of thunder came, Waldo fell over dead, while the hired man was thrown to the ground with both legs partially paralyzed.

Dr. W. C. McManus was summoned from Edgerton, and said that there was some hope for Kruse, although he was badly burned, but pronounced Waldo dead. The latter leaves a widow and eight children.

The hired man's watch chain, the crystal, and part of the watch case itself, were melted by the bolt.

STORM AT EMERALD GROVE.

The Wind Was Terrible and Rain Fell in Torrents.

Emerald Grove June 22.—A severe storm of wind struck this place Saturday evening about 6 p. m. While the wind was terrific for about thirty minutes no heavy damage was done near us although reports from the east tell of something like a young cyclone taking at least one half dozen wind mills, a number of sheds and out buildings besides numerous shade and fruit trees. The rain was a drenching one and lasted about an hour. It was fine for all crops. Miss Nettie Boyington has gone east with her uncle and aunt who live at Morris, Ill. They will be gone several weeks visiting relatives and places of interest in New York and Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones are visiting friends in and about Evansville. Graduating exercises at Beloit will be attended by a good number from this place. Remember the ribbon social at J. C. Scott's, Friday evening of this week. Super twenty-five cents a couple. Ladies please furnish cake. The board of review will meet at the town clerk's office Monday, June 29. Mrs. J. W. Davis met with a painful accident on Friday last. In attempting to close the blinds, from the outside, she fell, breaking her right arm above the wrist joint. Dr. Loomis was called and set the bone. Mrs. Davis will soon be around again. Anyone finding a pair of glasses on the highway, near the village, can find an owner near the postoffice. The young people had a merry time at the dancing party last Friday evening. In spite of the warm weather a good attendance was present. W. F. Goodrich has a peach tree in his door yard with several peaches on it. M. W. of A. meet Saturday evening of this week. Gillies & Jones have full cream cheese at ten cents a pound.

EVANSVILLE'S COUNCIL MEETS.

Aldermen Enforce Street Obstruction Ordinance—Police Appointed.

Evansville, June 22.—Steps were taken at the last meeting of the common council, to drain certain streets, and proceed against people who did not live up to the obstruction ordinance. C. G. Mihills was appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council, as a policeman. It will be the duty of Mr. Mihills to assist the marshal at such times as the police duties require more than one person. He is to be paid for the time he is on duty. The marshal suggested to the council the advisability of passing a vagrancy ordinance. Ordinance number six was then read, and the speed of bicycle riding was changed from five to eight miles an hour within the fire limits. The ordinance was then adopted. The following bills were allowed and the clerk instructed to draw orders for the same: A. H. Fessenden, work on streets, $10.80; Joshua Franz, suction hose, $81.60; W. E. Blanchard, work on bridge, $2.02; E. Lumber Co., lumber Co., lumber, $2.04; C. A. Libby, printing, $5.28; Chas. Fuller, draying, $2.25; Baker Manufacturing Company street lights, $53.34; C. Snashall, money advanced, $112.51; O. M. Tut-

Upon Mr. Campbell's motion, there was a member chosen from each ward. Mr. Snashall was chosen from First ward, Mr. Campbell, Second ward, Mr. Frantz, Third ward. The council then adjourned until the next regular meeting.

MRS. PHELPS IN NEWSPAPER WORK

Janesville Woman Follows Her Husband's Occupation at Peoria, Ill.

Further proof of woman's efficiency in newspaper work is being shown nowadays in Peoria, says the Mirror of that city. A woman has entered the active line of the business department, and is achieving marked success. She is Mrs. Annette Phelps, and her present occupation is in the vineyard of the Peoria Morning Herald, for whose columns she is soliciting and writing a business directory. Mrs. Phelps is a young woman of attractive personality and uncommonly bright mind. She comes from Wisconsin, and there is a sad but interesting story in her young life. She has that staid manner which comes to older women who look upon the serious side of life. Mrs. Phelps, until a few months ago a happy wife with all the comforts of a home made for her, was suddenly bereaved and left to carry on alone life's battle. Her husband, Harry Phelps, was one of the best known advertising men in the northwest, in the employ of the Minneapolis Times. Last spring, while working in the Dakotas, he was suddenly stricken and carried off with pneumonia. Mrs. Phelps' sympathies having since her marriage been with the newspapers, she turned naturally to the work, and chose the advertising branch of it as being most pleasant and profitable. She is the first woman in Peoria to attack this line of work successfully. Janesville people will remember Mrs. Phelps as Miss Annette Behrendt.

GOOD CAPITAL USED FOR BAD PURPOSES

REV. E. H. PENCE TELLS OF WASTED OPPORTUNITIES.

Energies Will Be Expended In Seeking that Which the Seeker's Nature May Wish—Evening Subject Also Very Interesting—Rev. Mr. Edmunds at Baptist Church.

At the Presbyterian church the topic of Mr. Pence's sermon was: "Dangerous Investments of Precious Capital." Text, I Cor., 9:25.

"Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible."

The capital that every one has at his disposal is time, talent, energy and the capability of loving. We will work for what we love. If we love only corruptible things, our capital will be invested for that. We understand that these corruptible things for which we are working may not materialize or at best be of short duration. Our judgment teaches us that our work and investment should be for the best attainment and that is the incorruptible or everlasting life. Our belief in the incorruptible life, vividness, we must learn to love the everlasting in order to make the best investment. The exercise of the same will power that is exercised for the attainment of possible earthly possessions, is necessary to attain actual heavenly possessions.

The Evening Subject.

In the evening, the subject was: "The Queen of the South Sitting in Judgment." Text, Matt. 12:42.

During the preaching of Jesus recorded in this chapter, the scribes and pharisees do not pretend to understand Christ, and ask for signs of his power. Christ rebukes them, and declares that the heathen queen might judge them, according to their opportunities. She came to see Solomon's wonderful work, they could not understand or credit Christ's wonderful work in their midst. She also was eager to learn. We resemble the scribe and pharisees, if we question Christ's work and power, and if we do, what do we do with the Jesus of history and the Bible. Compared with Jesus other teachers are but planets compared with a sun. If Christ is not owned as master, King and God, what shall I do with him? If the Queen of Sheba could have heard of our opportunities, were she now alive, she would have come from the distant home to learn as we may be. She asked hard questions of Solomon. We ask our hard questions of Christ. Calvary has settled the question of sin.

AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. E. B. Edmunds Speaks of the Publication Society's Work.

Dr. Hodge was unable to occupy his usual position at the Baptist church yesterday, being confined to his home by illness.

Rev. E. B. Edmunds, of Beaver Dam, presented the work of the American Baptist Society in a very interesting manner, giving the people a glimpse of the work that society is carrying on in this state in establishing and aiding Sunday schools and churches. At the close of the service a collection was taken up for the benefit of the Publication Society.

The children occupied the time of the regular evening service with a well prepared children's day programme.

Miss Beth Palmer conducted the monthly missionary meeting of the Young People's society. Rev. Edmunds spoke briefly on "Milwaukee '96," giving a glimpse of the good things in store for the young people who attend the great Baptist gathering in that city July 16-19. The music committee has introduced a new feature in the way of a ten-minute song service prior to the regular endeavor meeting Sunday evening.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will hold a "Milwaukee local" in the church parlors Friday evening. Excursion will start promptly at 7:30. On arriving at Milwaukee the people will be met by a reception committee, supplied with convention literature, and listen to a short program, after which there will be side trips for refreshments. Fare for round trip, including side trips, fifteen cents.

BICYCLE PRICES MAY GO DOWN

Local Dealers Are Warned That Something May Drop Soon.

Is the long looked for "drop" in the price of high grade bicycles about come? That is the question that is at present interesting two well known cycle dealers. A letter was received today from one of the great "high grade" cycle firms, which have headquarters in Chicago, to the effect that local dealers can be in readiness to hear "something drop" before the season is over.

The large firms in many parts of the country are "laying off" their men, and the great supply of wheels that they have on hand must be sold; hence the expected cut.

Nerves

Are the Messengers of Sense.—the Telegraph System of the human body.

Nerves extend from the brain to every part of the body and reach every organ.

Nerves are like fire—good servants but hard masters.

Nerves are fed by the blood and are therefore like it in character.

Nerves will be weak and exhausted if the blood is thin, pale and impure.

Nerves will surely be strong and steady if the blood is rich, red and vigorous.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1807—Nicholas Machiavelli (better known as Machiavelli), Italian statesman, who reduced intrigue to a science, died; born 1469. Machiavelli held the office of secretary to the ten who managed the diplomatic affairs of the republic of Florence.In that capacity he successfully carried out several missions to France. The Medici banished him from Florence. In his retirement he wrote upon the art of war and also the book "Del Principe," which has consigned his name to infamy.The last was prepared for the private use of Lorenzo de Medici. Hallam and Macaulay contend that Machiavelli has been misrepresented, misconstrued and traduced.1806—Emile de Girardin, journalist, republican and speculative writer, born in Paris;
died 1881.1815—Second and final abdication of Napoleon.
Waterloo was lost by the French June 18.1837—Paul Charles Morphy, the world famous chess player, died in New Orleans. He defeated the best players of America and Europe.1864—At 9 p. m., in Smith's sound, Captain
Schley's command reached and rescued
Lieutenant A. W. Greely and six others, only survivors of the Greely expedition to Lady Franklin bay.Republican State Convention.
TO THE REPUBLICAN ELECTORS OF WISCON-SIN:—By direction of the state central committee, a convention of the republican electors of the state of Wisconsin will be held in the city of Milwaukee, on Wednesday, the 8th day of August, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating a republican state ticket to be voted for at the general election in November next, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. Rock county is entitled to the following delegates:First Assembly District.....6
Second Assembly District.....8
Third Assembly District.....9

EDWIN D. COE, Chairman.

JOHN M. EWING, Secretary.

THE PEOPLE WON.

Go back to the days when the republican party was cradled. Not in all of forty years of history-making has there been a convention controlled more fully by the people, and less by the managers, than was that in St.
Louis.Candidate and platform—both are sealed with the approval of republicanism's rank and file.Much is said of Hanna's "splendid generalship." Splendid generalship it was indeed, but not the sort that shapes public sentiment. Hanna's task was the less spectacular one of insuring that the will of the people should not be set aside.From east to west, from north to south, the people stood for McKinley.
Opposed to him were four ambitious men who saw no chance of gain in a victory won without their help.Against McKinley they had nothing, but they wanted a candidate whose fortunes they had made. They wanted the nominee—the man that a solid north and a reunited south are to choose for president next November—to be a man wearing their collar.Should McKinley win they could claim no credit. Political logic required that they fight him.At best, however, their fight was half hearted.

Its failure was inevitable.

No artificial barrier could stand against the wave that carried the St.
Louis convention off its feet and put the nation's favorite son at the head of the republican column.There was not even a pause in the magnificent sweep with which all obstacles were brushed aside, all difficulties surmounted. Universal enthusiasm told that a presidential ticket had been named without thought of barter and without greed of gain.In the same way the framing of the platform was completed. Years of phrase-juggling had led political wiseacres to dread plainness of speech. Seated in the St. Louis convention they were agreed against a debased coinage but they hesitated to speak their minds. It would suffice, they thought, to declare rigorously for
"honest money," giving the country four years to prepare for a more definite expression.Here again the voice of the people was heard. It was raised, not for compromise, not for evasion, but for honesty, frankness and good faith.The call was heeded. Political manipulators were brushed aside and a platform was framed that inspired by the very plainness and bluntness with which it scored repudiation and arraigned the men who would make the nation a party to universal bankruptcy proceedings. It was a platform worthy the nominee, a nominee worthy the platform, and both typified in the highest degree the honesty and the patriotism of the people from whom they came.EVERY pair of shoes from our store

DOUBLE RUNAWAY THIS MORNING

Equines Owned By P. A. McGuire and W.
H. Ashcraft the ActorsA double runaway caused excitement on West Milwaukee street this morning. Street Commissioner Watson's men were flushing out the gutter at the corner of Jackson and Milwaukee streets, and the result was a good sized stream of water was souflowing down Milwaukee street.
When it reached the store of G. A.
Lampshire, a horse that was hitched
there, belonging to P. A. McGuire, broke loose and whirling about made a straight dash for the delivery outfit owned by W. H. Ashcraft. A collision followed. The buggy was left behind, but the horse was captured on River street. Ashcraft's horse then ran across the bridge, but was caught by John Gleason. Broken thills, spokes and harness comprised the damage.

DEMS OF OLD ROCK FAVOR WHITNEY

THE EX-SECRETARY IS THEIR PRESIDENTIAL CHOICE.

Ex-Governor William E. Russell Said to Be Second Choice—G. M. McKee Likely to Be a Delegate to Chicago Convention—Many Will Bolt If Silver Wins.

Janesville and Rock county democrats—the gold men, for there are no "others"—favor William Collins Whitney for the presidency, and the delegates from this city to the convention to be held in Milwaukee tomorrow, will be for him.

Ex-Governor William E. Russell, of Massachusetts is said to be their second choice for the head of the ticket, and on the vice presidency they are said to have no decided preferences. "Whitney and honest money" is their war cry, but just what they can accomplish at the convention remains to be seen. They expect that the Badger state will declare for gold but are loth to predict the victory of honest money in the Chicago convention.

G. M. McKee For Delegate.

In all probability, Alderman George M. McKee, of the Third ward, will be one of the delegates to the Chicago convention. There is said to be no opposition to him in this county, and it is thought that no trouble will be experienced in carrying the other districts for him. He is a representative democrat and an unflinching gold man, and his friends say that he is just the man to represent them in the financial fight at the national convention.

"We expect that Mr. Whitney will accept the nomination," said one of the local workers. "He has postponed his trip to Europe, and I think he will hark to the call of his fellow citizen. I also have great respect for ex-Governor Russell. Whitney or Russell is my man, and I think one of them will be the nominee."

Many Will Bolt.

Many Janesville democrats—some of whom are rock rooted and dyed in the wool—will bolt the Chicago convention, if the platform declares for free silver, holding that the financial question is the principal one before the people, and that the republican plank has the ring of honesty. On this issue, McKinley and Hobart will get many Janesville democratic votes, if free coinage wins at Chicago. On the other hand it is said that many democrats in the county are in favor of the white metal, and that "free silver clubs" are not uncommon.

"I will not vote for silver," said a local democrat who is a power in the party, to a Gazette man. "Rather than do that I will cast my ballot for William McKinley, although I do not believe in a tariff. Still I would prefer a tariff to a debased currency, and am a McKinley man on that issue."

YOUNG MAN OF GRIT OBEYED HIS HEART

EVANSVILLE ELOPERS WERE WEDDED HERE.

Groom's Father Gave Him His Choice of Giving Up the Girl He Loved or Abandoning School, So He Will Not Go Back to the State University.

With Claude Hendricks, of Evansville, it was a case of giving up the girl he loved, or abandoning his education.

Such was the parental decree. But Hendricks was a young man of spirit and grit.

So he abandoned his school work, and a quiet marriage ceremony was performed in this city Saturday afternoon.

The bride was Miss Mildred Purlington. She and young Hendricks had been "keeping company" for some time but much against the wishes of their parents, at Evansville, both of which objected on account of their age. Cupid was not to be foiled, however, and Saturday the young people met by appointment in this city, and were at once driven to the Washington street home of Rev. E. H. Pence, where the marriage ceremony was performed. Miss Nettie Wolfe acted as bridesmaid, while Chester Brewer was the "best man." The happy couple left for home on the evening train.

But Partially Forgiven.

Upon their arrival, they were forgiven by the bride's parents, but the groom, who returned to this city this morning, said that he had not yet notified his parents, as he thought it best to "break the news gradually," as his father notified him some time ago, that he would either have to leave the University of Wisconsin, or cease to pay court to Miss Purlington, and he chose to leave the school.

Miss Purlington is nineteen years old, is one of Evansville's most prominent and highly respected young ladies, her parents residing four miles from that city. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hendricks of Evansville, and is at present studying law in the office of Sutherland & Nolan of this city. Both have numerous friends in this city as well as Evansville, who will wish them much happiness and prosperity, even if the course of true love, as of old, has not run smoothly up to date.

LOCAL MAN KILLED IN VERMONT

Edward Brown, Said to Be From This City in a Wreck.

Edward Brown, of Janesville, was killed at Montpelier, Vermont, this morning, in a railroad wreck. An Associated Press dispatch gives this information, and says that Brown was a cattle man, and, with J. Sesskind, of Chicago, was in charge of a consignment of cattle, on the Central Vermont railroad, when the freight train was run into by the Montreal passenger. Sesskind and Brown were both killed, and several other men were hurt.

Brown's name does not appear in the directory, and no one seems to know who he is. He may have been a resident of the county, but that he does not live in the city, seems quite certain.

PFENNIG MADE A GOOD SHOWING

Janesville Rider Was in the Milwaukee-Waukesha Road Race

William M. Pfennig returned home last evening from Milwaukee, where he took part in the great Waukesha-Milwaukee road race. The course was over eighteen miles of bad road, and 150 riders contested. Pfennig finished 68th place. From the start Pfennig kept well in front, but when nearing the Cream City he had three bad falls, bruising his leg, but in spite of this he came home like a cannon ball, passing fifty men in the last ten miles. His time for the eighteen miles was fifty-eight minutes.

A HORSE MADE DEAF BY HEAVEN'S BOLT

FRED ROGE'S ANIMAL CANNOT HEAR ANYTHING NOW.

Lightning Struck the Barn and Did Some Slight Damage—Played Pranks at the Street Car Power House—Cyclists Drenched—Young Ladies Faint in a Picnic Panic.

Lightning struck the Western avenue barn of Fred Roge Saturday afternoon, and one of his horses is now deaf as a post. The flash took effect in one corner and tore up part of the shingles besides breaking glass in many parts of the barn. Roge says that one of his animals is now deaf from the effects of the shock.

The lightning played merry games at the street car power house, and a bolt entered the car barn several times, having followed the wires, but each time it was checked by the "lightning arrester." No serious damage resulted. Street car No. 4 felt the current twice while at Spring Brook, but the damage was light.

George Green and W. R. Dixon, of Beloit College, arrived in the city Saturday evening on their bicycles in a half-drowned condition, as the result of being caught in the rain storm.

Eight young ladies in this city, comprising the E. Y. G. cooking club, were enjoying a basket picnic in the woods near the Search farm, when the storm broke, and a panic followed. One of the young ladies fainted, but she soon came to and with much trouble the Cooking club managed to reach a farm house in a half-drowned condition. A liveryman was sent to the rescue.

WITHOUT PROOF.

A Clever but Wicked Woman Boldly Plans a Crime.

A well-known detective told a good story, the truth of which he vouches for.

"One day," he said, "a lady came into my office, evidently in deep trouble.

"You are a detective?"

"Yes, madame."

"Well, I want your services in a very delicate matter," she said, her voice sinking to a whisper, as she glanced nervously about to see that no one was present that could hear the conversation.

"My husband," she continued when satisfied no other visitors were in the room, "has a suicidal mania. He appears to be in perfect health, eats well, sleeps well, has no cares or troubles that I know of and yet I have to watch him carefully in order to keep him from committing suicide. His mania, for, of course, I know it is that with him, is so subtle that no one would suspect it for an instant. But he has laudanum secreted around the house. I have found several vials of it, and fear that there is more that I have not been able to discover." The case was a most interesting one, and I agreed to visit the house in the guise of an invited relative of the wife and study the affair.

I was greeted most cordially by the husband and within twenty-four hours admired him greatly. A lighter-hearted, merrier, happier man I never saw. Three nights later I was awakened by the screams of the wife and hastily arising and dressing, ran down stairs, meeting her in the hallway, holding an empty bottle labeled 'laudanum.' I rushed to the man's bedside, but too late. He was not yet dead, but never recovered consciousness. The seeming grief of the widow was heart-rending, but I caught a gleam in her eyes that convinced me she had poisoned her husband, and her ruse in having me in the house had been as bold as it was successful, for not a word of evidence could I have produced that she had plotted the murder of her husband.

Two months later she was married again and went to Europe."—Washington Star.

King of the Moonshiners.

The king of the north Alabama moonshiners, Fred Walker, was captured by revenue officers a few nights ago near Stevenson, Ala. For fifteen years Walker has been a fugitive from justice and during that time he has defeated dozens of attempts to capture him and has defied and taunted the officers, though he has lived in the place all the time. The marshal who headed the posse which captured him had previously made twenty-five unsuccessful attempts. Walker was exceedingly popular among mountain folk and they gave him every assistance in evading arrest. His cabin was on a cliff commanding a view of the country for fifteen miles around and either he saw the officers or was warned by signals from friends of the approach. The officers finally discovered the route by which he usually retreated and while one party went openly to his cabin the other lay in ambush along his path and took him unaware. All the mountaineers fully believe he will soon escape from the authorities.—Exchange.

ROSE AYLMER'S GRAVE.

An English grave 'neath Indian skies,
Marked by a sullen stone,
And this is where Rose Aylmer lies,
Far, flowerless, and alone.
Rose Aylmer was a poet's love,
Sweet, beautiful and young;
Her elegy, in melody,
The poet lover sung.

About her grave no flowers grow,
No pleasant boughs are stirred,
No gentle sun, no quiet snow,
No English, here or bird.
The suns of spring-time scorch the stone,
In summer, storm and rave
The winds that herald the cyclone,
The rains that lash the grave.

Rose Aylmer's sister flowers should spring
In whitest bloom above;
The roses Lander could not bring,
Far distant from his love.
And now a snake lives near her bed,
The crows perch on the rail,
A kite sweeps past and overhead
The unclean vultures sail.

"Ah, what avails the seeped race,
Ah, what the form divine!
What every virtue, every grace!
Rose Aylmer, all were thine.
Rose Aylmer, whom these wakeful eyes
May weep, but never see,
A night of memories and of sighs
I consecrate to thee."

Ah, why regret the gloomy hearse,
The land of banishment?
Thou art her grave, but Lander's verse
Rose Aylmer's monument.
Rose Aylmer, on thy namestone lies
Love's rose immortally,
The Rose of memories and of sighs,
Once consecrate to thee.

—Temple Bar.

THE RAVEN.

The Count Stibor was as brave as he was highborn, and riches had poured in upon him until he had become one of the wealthiest nobles in the empire. It chanced that one day he hunted with a great retinue among the mountain fastnesses, and glorious was the sport of that gallant hunt. The light footed chamois, the antlered deer, the fierce wolf, and the grizzly bear were alike laid low. When the sun was about to set, he formed his temporary encampment on the pleasant bank of the Waag, just where, on the opposite side of the channel, a lone and precipitous rock turned aside the glancing waters.

The heart of Stibor was merry, for the sport had gone well throughout the day, and when his rude tents were raised, the savory steam of the venison and the sparkle of the wine cup brightened his humor, and he listened, with a smile upon his lip, to the light sallies of the joyous company.

As they talked idly of the day's hunting, however, one wished that the deer had taken another direction; a second that he had not missed a certain shot; a third that he had not lost his couteau de chasse in the underwood. In short, there was not an individual among them who had not some regret blended with his triumph, like a drop of gall in a cup of honey.

"Hear me," said the magnificent noble, during a transient pause in the conversation. "I seem to be the only hunter of the day to whom the sport has been without a blemish. It is true that all your misfortunes are light enough, but I will have no shadow cast upon my own joy, and therefore to compensate you for these alleged mishaps, each of you is free to form a wish, and if it be within my power to grant it, I pledge my word that it shall be fulfilled."

A murmur of admiration ran through the astonished circle, and the work of ambition soon began. Gold was the first thing asked for, for avarice is ever the most greedy of all passions, and then revenge upon an enemy, for human nature will often sacrifice personal gain to vengeance, and then power, authority, rule over their fellow men, the darling occupation and privilege of poor, weak, self-misjudging mortals. In short, there was no boon within the reach of reason which had not been asked and promised, when the eye of Stibor fell upon his jester, who was standing apart playing with the tassels of his vest and apparently quite uninterested in a subject which had made all around him eager and excited.

"And thou, knave," said the noble, "hast thou nothing to ask? Thou must bestir thyself, or thy master will have little left to give, if the game go on thus."

"Fear not, fear not," replied the fool. "The claimants have been courteous, for they have not touched upon that portion of thy possessions which I covet. They have demanded gold, blood, domain, the power to enjoy themselves, and to render others wretched—they are welcome to all they want. I only ask for stones."

A loud laugh ran through the circle. "Stones, Betzko!" echoed the astonished Stibor. "Thou shalt have them to thy heart's content, where and in what shape thou wilt."

"I take thee at thy word, Count Stibor. I will have them yonder on the crest of the bold rock that stands out like a braggart daring the foot of man, and in the shape of a good castle in which I may hold my own, should need be, is the unlooked for reply."

"Thou hast lost thy chance, Betzko," cried a voice amid the universal merriment that ensued. "Not even Stibor can accomplish thy desire."

"Who dares to say that Stibor cannot grant it, if such be his will?" demanded the chieftain in a voice of thunder as he rose proudly from the earth where he had been seated on a couch of skins. "The castle of Betzko shall be built!"

And it was built, and within a year a festival was held there, and the noble became enamored of his own creation, for it was beautiful in its strength, and the fair dames admired its courtly halls as much as the warriors prized its solid walls and its commanding towers. And thus Count Stibor bought off the rock fortress from his jester with gold, and made it the chief place of his abode, and he feasted there with his guests and made merry with music and dances until it seemed as though life was to be for him one long festival. Men often walk over the spot which afterward opens to bury them.

Little by little the habit of self-indulgence grew upon the luxurious noble. Yet still he loved the chase beyond all else on earth, and his dogs were of the fleetest and finest breed.

He was one day at table, surrounded by the richest viands and the rarest wines, when one of his favorite hounds entered the hall howling with pain and dragging after him his wounded foot, which dropped blood as he moved along. Terror seized upon the hearts of the vassals even before the rage of their lord burst forth, and when it came terrible was the storm, as he vowed vengeance against the wretch who had dared thus to mutilate an animal that he valued.

An aged slave flung himself at his feet. "Mercy, my lord, mercy!" he exclaimed piteously. "I have served you faithfully for years. My beard is gray with time, and my life has been one of hardship. Have mercy on me, for he flew upon me and would have torn me had I not defended myself against his fury. I might have destroyed him, but I sought only to preserve myself. Have mercy upon my weakness!"

The angry chieftain, however, heeded not the anguish of his gray hairs, and, pointing to a low balcony which extended across the window of the apartment and hung over the precipice, he commanded that the wretched old man should be flung from thence into the river which flowed beneath as an example to those catiffs who valued their own worthless lives above those of his noble hounds.

As the miserable tools of an imperious will were dragging the unhappy victim to his fate he raised his voice and cursed the tyrant whom they served, and having done so he summoned him to appear at the tribunal, which none can escape, to answer for this his last crime, on its first anniversary. But the powerful chief heeded not his words.

"Away with him!" he said sternly as he lifted his goblet to his lips; and there was a struggle, a shriek of agony and then a splash upon the river wave, and all was silent.

A year went by in festival and pride, and the day on which that monstrous crime had been committed returned unheeded. There was a feast in the castle, and Stibor, who month after month gave himself up yet more to self-indulgence, gradually became heavy with wine, and his attendants carried him to a couch beside the same window whence the unfortunate slave had been hurled 12 months before.

The guests drank on for a time, and made merry at the insensibility and helplessness of their powerful host, and then they departed, each to his business or pleasure, and left him there alone.

The casement had been flung back to admit the air freely into the heated apartment, and the last reveler had scarcely departed, when a raven—the somber messenger of Nemesis—flew thrice round the battlements of the castle, and then alighted on the balcony. Several of the guests amused their idleness by watching the evolutions of the ill-omened bird, but once having lost sight of it they turned away and thought of it no more.

Meanwhile a work of agony and death had been delegated to that dark winged messenger. It rested but an instant from its flight ere once more it hovered over the couch of the sleeping Stibor, and then, darting down, its sharp beak penetrated at one thrust from his eye into his brain!

The agony awoke him, but he awoke only to madness from its extent. He reeled to and fro, venting imprecations to which none was by to listen, and writhed until his tortured body was one convulsion. At length, by a mighty effort, striving to accomplish he knew not what, he hurled himself over the balcony, at the selfsame spot whence the slave had been flung by his own command, and as he fell the clear waters of the Waag for a time resisted the impure burden and threw him back shrieking and howling from their depths.

But he sank at last, and when his parasites sought him on the morrow they found only the couch on which he had lain and a few drops of blood to hint that he had died a death of violence and vengeance.

They searched for him carefully on all sides, and then, when they were quite assured that he had passed away never to return, whispers grew of the gray-headed slave and the mysterious raven—until by degrees the fate of the famous Stibor was fashioned into form, and grew into a legend throughout the country, scaring the village maiden in her twilight walk and the lone shepherd in his watch upon the hills.—Exchange.

The Vigesimal System.

One of the facts presented by Professor Comant in his interesting volume, "The Number Concept," is the way Celtic races have held on to the vigesimal system, or numeration having 20 as a basis. It is found in old Irish, Welsh, Gaelic, Manx and Breton. When, however, 1,000 is reached, then comes in the Latin, as if the effects of Roman conquest were visible, for in Irish, Gaelic and Breton "mile" or "mil" is 1,000. Another peculiarity is that in French the persistence of the vigesimal system is visible. The French 80 is quatre-vingt, four times 20, and their 90 is quatre-vingt-dix, or four times 20, with 10 added. In old French soixante for 60 does not appear. It was treis vinz, or three times 20. One hundred and twenty was six vinz—that is, six times 20—and sept vinz, or seven times 20, was 140. In Africa the vigesimal system is rare, but in Asia it is not uncommon, and is in use in northern Siberia.

Mrs. Howe's Husband.

Apropos of the "new woman," somebody resurrected an old story the other day about Mrs. Julia Ward Howe that may or may not be true. At all events, it was worth resurrecting. The story goes that Mrs. Howe was one fine morning walking down Beacon street, Boston, when she met a friend, who asked her how Dr. Howe was. "Dr. Howe?" repeated Mrs. Howe vaguely. Then, as if suddenly recollecting herself: "Oh, he's quite well, I'm sure. I remember seeing in the morning paper that he presided at some meeting or other last evening."

GENTLE ART OF BEDMAKING.

But Few Housemaids Understand the First Principle of It.

How few persons there are who really know how to make a bed well!

Out of 100 housemaids ninety-nine will throw the bedclothes down over the foot of the bed, and then throw them up again in a few minutes, says the Philadelphia Times.

This should never be permitted. Every article should be taken off and laid separately over a chair and a strong current of air should be allowed to circulate through the room before the clothes are replaced. The mattress should be turned daily and from end to end, as this insures it being worn more evenly, and it will not sink in the middle, which spoils the looks of any bed, no matter how beautiful its cover.

The new fashion of steel chain springs is a great improvement over the heavy old-style spring, which when once taken upstairs was bound to remain there a long time. The careful housewife will cover the springs of her bed with linen, so that it may be taken off and washed. This saves the mattress all chance of rust-marks from the metal. Clean newspapers will answer the same purpose.

It is only the hardest sleepers who can enjoy their slumbers when, by a scanty supply of sheet, the blanket scratches the face and neck. Narrow bedclothing is even worse, especially where the barbarous custom of sleeping two in a bed holds good. One drags the clothes one way, the other exhausts strength in clinging to them for dear life and neither is comfortable.

A simple remedy for this discomfort is to place one blanket lengthwise across the bed. In this way there is a double advantage—less weight on the shoulders and plenty of chance for a firm tucking up. Good housemaids are quite liable, in placing three blankets on a bed, to turn down a great piece, giving you six on your shoulders and not one sufficiently tucked in on the sides.

A restless child might be prevented from many a cold if blankets were placed across the bed. It is the careful watch of detail in home life that makes it differ from a hotel, and nothing is more satisfactory than a well-made bed.

New York Convention.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 22.—A few politicians have already reached this city to attend the state democratic convention, called for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention. The state convention will be held in this city next Wednesday. Senator David B. Hill is expected here Tuesday morning, and the meeting of the committee of the state will not be held until Tuesday night. The refusal of William C. Whitney to accept a place upon the ticket as a delegate-at-large has led to a complication and several candidates have sprung up. A line of policy, it has been said, has been marked out to placate the state democracy, so that there will be a united delegation to the national convention.

Gems of Thought.

Critic—That villain in your story is a perfect masterpiece. Where did you get the character? Novelist—I imagined a man possessed of all the forms of wickedness my wife attributes to me when she is angry.

Woman and Her Moods—"Woman," began the corn-fed philosopher, in his generalizing way, "is a creature of many moods." "My wife aint," ventured Mr. N. Peck. "She is always in the imperative."

"O, look!" exclaimed Ruth, a victim of the passing craze, "what lovely posters!" And she and Mabel went into the store and purchased several dollars' worth. Pray, how were they to know that the goods bought were not posters, but comic valentines?

Two Harvard Graduates.—The Rev. Dr. Discord—Why, dear Jack, I am glad to see you. You look so well. What have you been doing? Jack Scraggs—Pitching for a league club at $5,000 a year. What are you doing? Discord—Preaching for a chapel at $500 a year.

How a Pin Did It.

At Exmouth in the middle of the day a hypnotized youth was brought out of the public hall with a bonnet pin stuck through his cheek and placed in an open vehicle, in which he was driven round the town, to the edification of the populace, in company with an individual smoking a cigar. According to the Devon Evening Express the youth subsequently admitted that he was paid half a sovereign to go through this performance and that the bonnet pin hurt him so badly that he was unable to appear, as intended, at the evening entertainment. When exhibitions of this sort have to be resorted to in order to keep alive public interest in this impudent form of imposture it really seems time for the police to interfere. —London Truth.

Lincoln's Grammar.

In the inside of the front cover is a receipt for $30, given with an order on James Rutledge by Offutt in Lincoln's handwriting and over his signature.—Minneapolis (Minn.) Journal.
